Fruit Tree Anniversary Cuvée: a journey of discovery for the senses

There are pitfalls with anniversaries. On the one hand, they attract attention, and on the other, they are determined by the calendar and not by the course of events. A milestone birthday provides an opportunity for a response; in whatever form. In 1995 Etter Söhne AG from Zug surprised its customers at the company's 125th anniversary with a very special anniversary cuvée: the Fruit Tree. As the name suggests, this fruit spirit simultaneously combines a number of flavours typical of the fruit varieties: cherries, Williams pears, Merlot grapes, Gravenstein apples and raspberries. During the careful process of bringing these all together the individual fruit spirits create one harmonious flavour with an elegant character.

The Fruit Tree didn't only attract enthusiasts in the anniversary year. Since it was created, this worldwide unique delight for the palate has enjoyed significant popularity because each fruit adds its own flavour to the authenticity of the noble distillate. The cherry provides the finesse, the stone fruits the fruit components, the raspberry the intensity and the grape the elegance. However, it is the individual perception which is the winner on this journey of discovery through the senses and that's what fascinating about the 5 fruit spirit: everyone chooses their own bouquet. The secret of this creation is harmony not dominance, indulging the senses - the eyes, nose and palate - to equal extent in the slim, hand-blown glass carafe: a true journey of discovery for nose and palate with guaranteed enjoyment Swiss style.

"The Etter Fruit Tree is a work of art. Although a 5-fruit spirit, it doesn't smell or taste like a hotchpotch of fruits, but harmoniously of the individual fruits. Swiss precision work!"
